SEE YOU AT THE GATHERING

The Genealogical Society of Rockland County will hold it's fourth annual Rockland Gathering on June 8th at the New City Library, 220 North Main Street, New City, NY. Hours are from 10:00 am until 4:00 pm, on the south lawn adjacent to Main Street. Attendance has increased each year, and with the genealogical programs being offered simultaneously in the Library auditorium, we expect a record turnout. Come and join us for the day, or just stop by for awhile. Full details about the Gathering can be found on page 7 of this newsletter.

FLORIS WILLEMSE KROM HONORED

On Saturday, April 20, 2002, The National Society Colonial Dames XVII Century unveiled a memorial marker at the Tappan Village Green in honor of the memory of Floris Willemse Krom, an early settler of Rockland County, and a public servant. Floris came to Rockland in 1685 when he purchased lands at Haverstraw. In 1690 he was High Sheriff of Orange County, and from 1702 until 1706 served as Member of the General Assembly of the Province of New York. Floris is the namesake of the Floris Willemse Krom Chapter, Society of Colonial Dames organized 28 March 1998 to serve the lower Hudson River region. Invocation at the ceremony was by The Reverend James Johnson, Pastor of the Tappan Reformed Church. Dr. Robert Schelin spoke about the history of the Tappan Reformed Church, and Mrs. Mary Cardenas, Orangetown Historian spoke about Floris Willemse Krom. The granite memorial, located in the small village green between the Tappan Reformed Church and the Manse, off Greenbush Rd., and Main St., Tappan, is inscribed:

[ I count nearly one hundred ] Bill feels that remote members would find the families of interest useful and beneficial, and urges everyone to submit family names they are researching. Don't be bashful, send us those family names and we'll include them here in the directory. It couldn't hurt! Editor*

SUFFERN FREE LIBRARY

The Ramapo Room. Located behind beautiful stained glass windows at the back of the Reference Room, the Ramapo Room houses a local history collection. New microfilm includes 250 reels of Rockland County Newspapers dating back to 1850. Included in these are The Rockland Independent, which focuses on Suffern, The Rockland Leader, The Nyack Evening Journal, which later became The Journal News, and The Rockland County Journal. Also, genealogists can try the in-house Internet source at www.ancestry.com to do genealogy searches in a database of over one billion names.

Fourth Annual Rockland Gathering

It's that time of year again! The weather has settled into something delightful, the birds are chirping away, and all seems right with the world! Can you believe that it is time again for The Rockland Gathering? Or that this is our fourth year?

This year the Gathering will again be held at the New City Library, New City, New York on June 8th. Set up will begin at 8 AM, and all are welcome between 10AM and 4PM. As in years past, we will have our Pot-Luck-Lunch. If you wish to partake, plan to bring a covered dish item, which will feed 4-6 people. Last year the array of salads, deserts, and in-betweens was actually referred to by several participants as "Gourmet"! Wow!

We have already had donations from several companies both new this year, and old returning friends. Several publishers, including Bergen Historic Books, have sent contributions; we again have lovely family charts with delightful illustrations- everything from dragons and castles to babies in cradles- terrific gifts!

The German Genealogy Group from Long Island and several of our local authors are planning to attend. This is worth the trip all by itself, since these folks always bring their laptops and make their research databases available for one and all. Every year, so far, we have been pleasantly surprised in this regard by who "drops in".....who knows who it might be this year!

Last year we awarded prizes along with certificates to our contestants for the President's Prize, Best Family Recipe and Most Creative/ Artistic Genealogical Display. I wonder how long these awards will remain in the hands of GSRC members, any day now another club will challenge us and then who knows....! Come on out and show us what you have been up to! Slap Uncle Nate's picture and story on a board and see if he wins, or make up gr-grandma's dumplings .....what's to lose? If you don't win, you still have lunch! It's all open to every genealogical club member (ours or other clubs) who make a showing and what's more its free! That's a deal you can't beat anywhere, besides, you just might run into a cousin you didn't know you had! This is always a fun time, even if it rains, we just move into the library! ## POETRY CORNER

A Genealogist's Poem

*They think that I should wash and clean
And be a model wife.*

*I tell them it's more interesting
To study Grandpa's life.*

*They simply do not understand
Why I hate to go to bed . . .*

*I'd rather do two hundred years
Of research work instead.*

*Why waste the time we have on earth
Just snoring and asleep?*

*When we can learn of ancestors
Who sailed upon the deep.*

*We have priests, rabbis, lawmen,
Soldiers, more than just a few.*

*And yes there's many scoundrels,
And a bootlegger or two.*

*How can a person find this life
An awful drudge or bore,*

*When we can peek into the lives
Of those who came before?*

*A hundred years from now of course,
No one will ever know*

Whether I did laundry,

But they'll see our Tree and glow. . .

*Cause their dear old granny left for them,
For all posterity,*

*Not clean hankies and the like,
But a finished Family Tree.*

My home may be untidy,

Cause I've better things to do . . .

Checking all the records

To provide us with a clue.

*Old granny's pulling roots and branches
Out with frenzied glee,*

*Her clothes ain't hanging out to dry,
She's hung up on The Tree.*

Spook Rock Mansion

The mansion on Ramapo's Spook Rock Golf Course, known as the Josiah Young home, was actually begun by his grandfather Hendrick Young. The late Claire Tholl dated two rooms in the old section as about 1780. Unfortunately, no notes of her visit have been found among her papers at the Historical Society.

A newspaper obit of Josiah stated that his father and grandfather had been born in the house. The writer was mistaken. The Young family Bible of James Young, cousin of Josiah, notes that Hendrick emigrated at age six and was bound out until he was 21. Another Bible gives his name as Heinrich Jung and says he came from Hamburg. This suggests that he was a German Palatine.

Hendrick's first home was on a part of Lot #61, Ramapo Tract (Campgaw, NJ). His eldest son Jacob was born there in 1763. Tunis, Josiah's father, was born in 1772, possibly in NJ.

Hendrick and his family are listed in the 1790 census for Haverstraw. His sons Jacob and John remained in New Jersey. Further evidence of Hendrick's residence in Rockland: 1782 Assessor for Hempstead, Haverstraw Township; 1783 contributed to the New Hempstead Presbyterian Church; 1784 Constable; 1786 and 1812 Trustee of Brick Church. 1791 elected Constable and Fence Viewer at first Town meeting of Hempstead Township. On the tax lists of 1789 and 1794. In 1807 he had 64 acres and 2 horses. In 1812 his house and farm were valued at $550.00.

He died intestate in 1812. His sons Jacob, of Bergen Co., NJ, and Tunis of Rockland, were appointed coadministrators. His son Tunis owned the house and farm known now as the Jacob Young House, and currently owned by Eugene and Martha Erickson. Hendrick's land was sold to pay his debts. Josiah embellished the house in Victorian style.

An architectural survey is urged to establish the date of the original rooms. Hendrick was my 5x great grandfather.

Some Thoughts About Floris Willemse Krom

From the Editors Desk

Historians and genealogists throughout time have differed in their interpretations of the facts and records. This tendency toward disagreement holds true concerning the name of the wife of Floris Willemse Krom/Crom/Crum, [and the mother of his children]. While most seem to agree that she was the daughter of Adriaen Lambertsen (Smith), born in the Netherlands about 1648, disagreement arises as to her given name. Was it Helena, or Lena, or Lyntje? Or maybe Catalyntje, Cathalyne, Catalintje or Cathlyntje? How about Catherine or Caroline? Lots of names to choose from here! Early records from the Dutch churches of Midwout [Flatbush] and Tappan give her name as Catalyntje Adrianse, and this brings about a major problem. As an example, in his book "Names, Names and More Names: Locating your Dutch Ancestors in Colonial America," author Arthur Kelly translates the Dutch names Catalyntje, Catalintje, Cathlyntje and Cathalyne into the English name Caroline. Another work, "Dutch Genealogical Research," by Charles M. Franklin, lists the same four Dutch spelling variations, and translates them all into the English name Catherine. How do we decide which is the correct translation? I guess you "Pays your money and takes your choice."

Keep in mind that these are literal translations from old Dutch, in quill pen script, the quality and accuracy of which was dependent upon the writing proficiency and hearing acumen of the recording clerk. We must also consider that illiteracy was the norm during the Colonial period, and there is every chance that the principals involved in the marriages and baptisms did not know how to spell or write their name.

When we look at the names Catalyntje, Catalintje, Cathalyntje and Cathalyne, it seems that the transition to the diminutive of Helena or Lena is an easy one to make. Perhaps at her baptism the lady in question was named Catalyntje, but decided later that she preferred the shorter name of Helena/Lena. No one carried photo identification, and a person was free to change his or her name as it suited them. Short of the discovery of new evidence, we may never know the full answer.

The majority of the available records list the name of the wife of Floris as Helena or Lena. When we also consider that each of the six children of Floris and his wife named a daughter Helena/Lena, we can with a great deal of certainty draw the conclusion that whatever her baptismal name or given name, the wife of Floris Willemse Krom/Crom/Crum was known to her family as Helena/Lena. Since I am also a member of her family, even though nine generations removed, I shall show her name in my records as Helena/Lena, and wait for conclusive evidence to prove otherwise.

Regardless, there is always a warm feeling when one of your ancestors is honored in some way, and this certainly holds true concerning the recent unveiling of the Floris Krom Monument on the Tappan Village Green. Miss Cornelia Bush, of the Floris Krom Chapter, Society of Colonial Dames, was instrumental in bringing about this honor to Floris, and she must be commended for her perseverance and hard work. As a descendant of Floris Willemse Krom, I tip my cap to her and thank her for singling out my ancestor in this significant way.

That being said, I cannot help but ask why the Tappan location was chosen. Floris didn't live in Tappan, and in fact his farm was at the opposite end of the county, in Stony Point. Granted that Floris's name appears in the records of the Tappan Dutch Reformed Church, but if a man wished his children to be baptized, he must take them to the church. The nearest available Dutch church [and the only church in the county] was that in Tappan. While the Krom children may have been baptized in the Tappan Dutch Church, regular Sunday attendance would have been out of the question. There were no roads or bridges of any type between Stony Point and Tappan, and the trip by wagon would have taken the better part of a day. Dutch Sunday services took up the whole Sabbath, with both morning and afternoon sermons. Add the return trip to Stony Point and we can see that a farmer could only rarely leave his place for three days to attend church.

There is also nothing to indicate that Floris might be buried at the Tappan Churchyard. Had all the members of the Tappan Dutch Reformed Church been buried in the churchyard, the burial ground would have been many times its actual size. Common practice of the time was to bury the dead in a small family plot on the home farm, often without a proper tombstone, but merely a fieldstone stood on edge.

While I personally feel that Floris would have been better served had his memorial been erected in Stony Point, somewhere on a part of his original farm, the decision was made to place it in Tappan, and there it shall stay. I was pleased to be there for the unveiling ceremony, and proud to take my place when a photograph was taken of his descendants in attendance.

If a problem has no solution, it may not be a problem, but a fact-- not to be solved, but to be coped with over time. Shimon Peres
